NeoReviews™ Editorial Board Disclosures

The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) Policy on Disclosure of Financial Relationships and Resolution of Conflicts of Interest for AAP CME Activities is designed to ensure quality, objective, balanced, and scientifically rigorous AAP CME activities by identifying and resolving all potential conflicts of interest before the confirmation of service of those in a position to influence and/or control CME content.

All individuals in a position to influence and/or control the content of AAP CME activities are required to disclose to the AAP and subsequently to learners that the individual either has no relevant financial relationships or any financial relationships with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services discussed in CME activities. Commercial interest is defined as any entity producing, marketing, reselling or distributing health-care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. Definitions and inclusions of financial relationships as defined by the ACCME are found at http://www.acponline.org/provider/ce/ceaccreditation/criteria/policies financialdisclosure.html.

All potential financial relationships with the commercial entity-producer, marketer, reseller, distributor or provider of health-care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients must be disclosed to learners that the individual either has no relevant financial relationships or any financial relationships with the commercial entity.

All potential conflicts of interest after the confirmation of service of those in a position to influence and/or control CME content must be disclosed to learners that the individual either has no relevant financial relationships or any financial relationships with the commercial entity.

Each of the editorial board members, reviewers, question writers, and staff members has any relevant financial relationships to disclose unless noted below. The AAP has taken steps to resolve any potential conflicts of interest.
